

The Declaration of Dumfries

“It is in truth not for glory, nor riches, nor honours that we are fighting, but for freedom; for that alone, which no honest man gives up but with life itself”

Thus spake our ancestors in the year thirteen hundred and twenty. And oh how our forbears must be turning in their antient graves when they look upon us today and to what We the People of Scotland have become, as they bear witness:-

To the imposition of lockdowns and mask mandates without protest or whimper which curtailed people's freedoms, damaged social and community cohesion and undermined psychological and spiritual health - To the unlawful and unforgivable forced closure of businesses and of earning a living for families, destroying economies and Businesses and condemning the masses to poverty - To those in their final moments being condemned to pass alone without their loved ones by their side - To the government and corporate media propaganda campaign of psychological manipulation and coercion, rendering the People of our nation as lab rats in a medical experiment - To the abject failure to protect our Sons and Daughters from that psychological attack and malicious propaganda, instead allowing the abuse and coercion of those we ought to protect into unnecessary experimental vaccination, using our children as Jabbed and muzzled shields to protect adults in the most shameful Act of cowardice ever to disgrace our Nation

And as our ancestors bear Witness to the meek and craven submission to tyranny and to the egregious and Unlawful trespass on inalienable Rights and liberties by a corrupt and Despotick government enacting a Globalist agenda - with Resistance and fight by only a Stalwart few - they must ask themselves. . . “When will we see Our likes again?”

For the future of the People of Scotland, for the futures of our sons and daughters, and for their sons and daughters and future descendants; in honour of our Forefathers who so gloriously proclaimed and affirm'd our God-given Natural rights and Liberties all those Three-score and ten Decades ago:- that time must be now

And whereas those Proclamations from the Declaration of Arbroath to the Claim of Right and from the Universal Declaration of Human Rights to the Declaration of the Common Law Court did delyver the People from arbitrary despotick power, We the People hereby assemble as did our ancestors to Vindicate and re-assert the Antient rights and liberties granted by our Creator upon which no man nor despotick government may trespass - And standing on the Shoulders of Giants We the People Declare

That there exists no man or woman be it public official, police Constable or politician with the right or the authority to trespass against the Rights of another, whether that be the decree of Lockdowns or the despicable mandating of masks, and that the mere assertion of such is a criminal act of treason Contrairy to law

That the proclamation of authority or claim of jurisdiction over another man's business or livelihood without Contractual agreement is fraudulent and despotick and is Contrairy to law

That no Mortal being in their final moments should be condemned to a lonely death without their loved ones by their side, and to prevent such is an act of malevolence Contrairy to law

That the mandating of medical procedures whether by threat or Coercion or by psychological manipulation thereunto is an attack on the inalienable Sovereignty of the People and is contrairy to law

That the relentless and vicious Onslaught of government and corporate media Propaganda and psychological control inflicted upon the People and their sons and daughters is a treasonous act of manipulation worthy only of the highest punishment within Law

That the spiteful and sinister masking of children is an act of abuse both physical and psychological, a Violation of innocence committed by a criminal, a repugnant sin against Nature itself and is Contrair to law

That the Imposeing of dictatorship and of government control of the people based on behavioural traits and Obedience whether it be social credit or vaccine passports or by any other moniker are the treasonous acts of a Turncoat and tyrant Contrairy to law and worthy only of punishment of maximum severity

That all Laws and Statutes in this Kingdom so far as they are contrary to or inconsistent with the terms of these Articles as abovementioned shall from and after the Declaration cease and become void And that no Declarationes Doeings or proceedings to the prejudice of the people in any of the said premisses ought in any wayes to be drawne hereafter in Consequence or Example

We the People Declare that no Mortal can ever be the arbiter of rights and Liberties over those granted by our Creator

We the People of Scotland - We the People of the world - are Sovereign
