ONS now confirming they will no longer be reporting 'Death by Vaccination Status' data

This is what happens when the data does not support their narrative

They bury it

If this data was positive for the vaccine, bet your life they'd be shouting it from the rooftops...

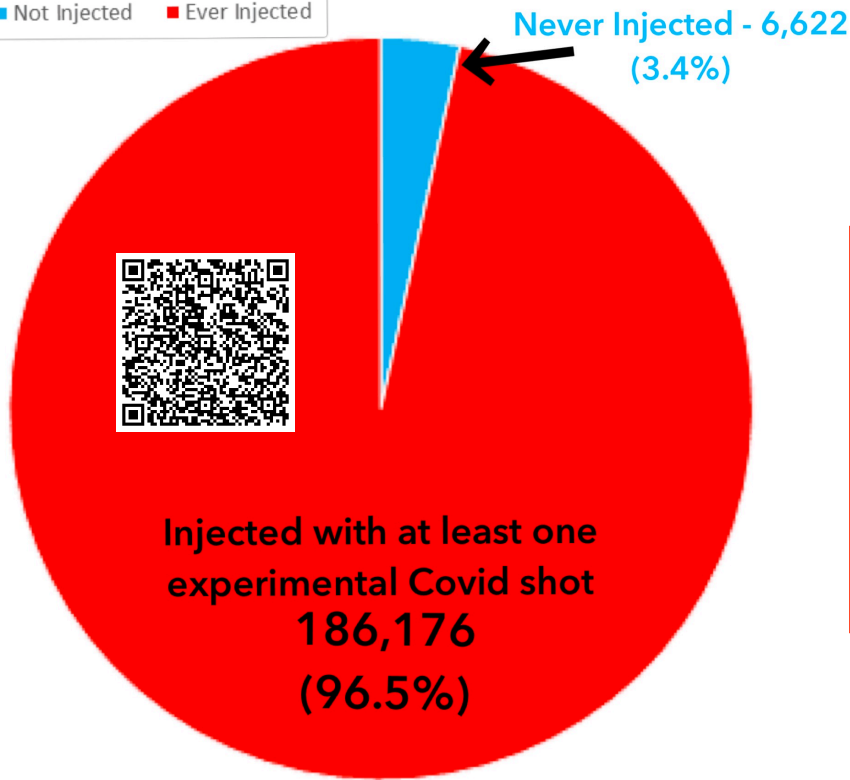

25 August 2023

We will no longer be updating the Deaths by vaccination status analysis, England series. The last edition was for April 2021 to May 2023, published on 25 August 2023.

This publication was created during the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic to answer important questions around mortality by vaccine status in a timely manner.

THE VACCINATED DRIVING UP EXCESS DEATHS

One of the questions about the unprecedented level of excess deaths in highly vaccinated nations was; are the extra deaths occurring disproportionately amongst the vaccinated.

This question has finally been answered by the latest data release from the UK Office of National Statistics.

<https://ons.gov.uk/releases/deathsinvolvingcovid19byvaccinationstatusenglanddeathsoccurringbetween1april2021and31may2023...>

This data shows that from Jan to May 2023 a total of 192,798 people died in England from non-Covid causes.

Of these;
186,176 (96.5%) had received at least one Covid jab
6,622 (3.4%) were never injected with a Covid shot

And in England 18.4% of population over 18 years of age had never been injected. Even in the 80+ age group 4.3% of the population didn't take the jab. (see table in comments)

The number of Excess Deaths

However you cut the numbers, the vaccinated are over represented proportionately in the number of deaths - and the unvaccinated underrepresented.

Interesting the Australian Bureau of Statistics and each of our state Health Departments could have published similar data sets, but they have decided to hide this information from the public.

The only logical conclusion is that the vaccines are the cause of the shocking and unprecedented level of excess deaths that are ongoing.
