Still Sh-“Ootn”!

Update: Ootn Aboot continues gunning for corrupt DGC

Last month we signposted our readers to an article written by Ootn Aboot Dumfries, which described Dumfries & Galloway Council’s blatant act of corruption and self entitlement with regards to the River Nith anti-flooding project.

Yesterday Ootn posted an update article, again dealing with the anti-flooding scandal amongst other serious council failures, describing D&G Council employees as “Unelected. Unaccountable. Unavailable. Untouchable. Unsackable.”

We couldn’t agree more.

It seems obvious that DGC employees believe that council functions are their ball to play with, regardless of the wishes of the public who pay their wages and who really ought to be viewed as their boss, but instead are clearly considered with contempt.

It’s another impressive article by Ootn Aboot Dumfries and we cannot recommend their page highly enough to our readers.

Indeed, the article’s parting shot has us wondering whether Ootn is deliberately setting out to impress Declaration of Dumfries:

“A Council Tax strike?”

Do we even need to comment? Watch this space.
